

Antietam costs more casualties than any other single day of the war—23,100 killed or wounded.

Shiloh, with 23,750 casualties, is the bloodiest battle fought in the Americas up to this point.

BATTLES IN THE EAST AND WEST, 1862

- Union control
- Confederate control
- Union troop movement
- Confederate troop movement
- Union naval blockade
- Union victory
- Confederate victory
- No clear victor
- Boundary between USA and CSA
- Capital of USA or CSA

0 100 200 miles

0 100 200 kilometers

During the second year of the war, the Confederate army won many eastern battles due to the skill of its generals. Union victories came in the West, where Union and Confederate forces fought for control of the Mississippi River.